Assistant or Associate Professors in Nursing
University of Massachusetts Boston

The Department of Nursing at University of Massachusetts Boston is pleased to invite applications for two faculty positions, beginning on September 1, 2018. These are 9-month, full time tenure-track or tenured position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor, dependent on qualifications and experience. One position is for a Health Policy faculty member and the other is for an Adult Health faculty member.

We are seeking outstanding scholars, researchers, and educators who will strengthen our research, teaching, and service initiatives in nursing and health policy. These positions will contribute directly to enhancing a program of research on health policy and adult health nursing, mentoring faculty in interdisciplinary research, and teaching students in doctoral (PhD and DNP) nursing programs. Applicants must have an earned research doctorate, a promising or established track record of external research funding, a consistent publication history, and evidence of strong student and faculty mentorship. We are looking for candidates who are dedicated to teaching a diverse student population in an urban setting and are interested in integrating nursing research, policy, and practice in the context of health disparities toward health equity.

The College of Nursing and Health Sciences and its Office of Research offer strong internal and external mentoring programs for faculty, including assistance with grant proposal and manuscript preparation. Our faculty have interests in health promotion, and communicable and non-communicable disease care and prevention with a strong commitment to teaching a diverse student population in an urban setting. The college offers a wide range of multidisciplinary, collaborative research opportunities including with the Department of Exercise and Health Sciences as well as major academic and medical institutions including the Dana-Farber/Harvard Cancer Center, Boston Children’s Hospital, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, and community, public, and private healthcare agencies. A National Cancer Institute-funded grant between UMass Boston and Dana-Farber has strengthened and extended partnerships, PhD training, research and community outreach. We are developing new, exciting teaching and research opportunities with the addition of young and older populations to the College’s GO FWD (Fitness, Wellness & Development) Institute.

The BS, MS, and DNP nursing programs are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). The MS and DNP programs focus on preparing Family Nurse Practitioners, Adult/Gerontological Nurse Practitioners, and Adult/Gerontological Acute Care Clinical Nurse Specialists. The PhD nursing program has two foci: Health Policy and Population Health. A joint or shared academic/clinical appointment with a healthcare institution is possible.

To Apply:
Please submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate transcripts, and names and contact information of at least three references to:
http://umb.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=92008
Review of applications will continue until the positions are filled.

For questions, please contact the Search Committee Co-Chairs: Teri.Aronowitz@umb.edu or Ling.Shi@umb.edu

The University of Massachusetts Boston provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, age, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, disability, military status, or genetic information. In addition to federal law requirements, the University of Massachusetts Boston complies with applicable state and local laws governing nondiscrimination in employment in every location in which the university operates. This policy applies to all terms and conditions of employment.