

Doctor of Nursing Practice

The UMass Boston's DNP program interweaves coursework in health systems leadership, policy development, and interdisciplinary collaboration to prepare advanced practice nurses with transformational leadership skills in program development and policy change. Course work and internships build on knowledge and skills acquired in the Master's program and focus on preparing graduates to meet emerging health care system needs.

Highlights

- Open to APNs: NPs, CNSs, CNWs, CNAs
- Thirty nine credits, can be completed part time over three years
- Course work is completed online with periodic campus visits
- Thriving partnerships with neighboring institutions, communities and healthcare settings
- Scholarly community of some of the finest nursing scholars and leaders in research and practice

Application Deadlines:

April 1st for fall and November 1st for spring admission

Students may take up to four courses before applying:

Courses are available for non matriculated students every semester.

For further information contact

Dr. Karen Dick at karen.dick@umb.edu

Explore other graduate program options: MS (NP and CNS) in Nursing, Post-Master's NP and CNS Certificate Programs, and PhD in Nursing Health Policy/Population Health

www.cnhs.umb.edu

