Overview
Entrepreneurship is one of the fastest-growing areas of business, and one of the major directions of management education. The entrepreneurship concentration is closely connected to the College of Management’s Entrepreneurship Center (EC), and the concentration draws on the EC’s vision and strategy:

The Entrepreneurship Center provides core knowledge and expertise for starting new businesses, creating innovations in growing companies, and thriving in high-growth environments. Through university-wide courses and hands-on learning, we provide a complete toolkit for every student—fundamentals and opportunities for career-long entrepreneurship.

These goals are accomplished through the courses in the concentration, as well as through all the programs offered by the EC.

The Entrepreneurship concentration allows students to develop skills in entrepreneurial innovation and action, effective communication, capitalizing on opportunities, and new business creation and growth. Interdisciplinary electives let students focus on e-commerce, international venturing, operational innovation, or starting their own company with mentoring from successful entrepreneurs.

Career Path
Students who complete their Bachelor’s degree with a concentration in Entrepreneurship are positioned well for entry-level positions in fast-growth entrepreneurial companies, or to pursue their own growing business. Graduates have also found positions in a range of industries including high tech, computer and telecommunications, marketing and PR, as well as non-profit, health care, and education.

Advising Notes
The prerequisites for these courses are strictly enforced, so entrepreneurship concentrators should plan their schedules carefully and early.
